BA Program (Three years / Four Years) in Ancient Indian History and Archaeology

Programme Objectives:

The Programme aims at providing an introductory survey of ancient Indian history to the students, familiarising them with the tools of studying ancient Indian history, and building an understanding of the discipline of history. The Programme spans over a very long period of India's ancient past – from pre-historic times to c 1206 AD, and endeavours to dwell upon major landmarks of ancient Indian history. The Programme is designed with the objective of educating students as scholars, having employability in the Government sector, and preparing them for higher education and research. It trains students, not only for a career in higher studies, but also for various competitive examinations and vocational courses, as for instance, in the fields of field archaeology and museology. The effective implementation of the Programme, however, calls for organizational support, both human and physical, and total devotion and commitment of all the stakeholders.

Programme Specific Outcomes:

After completing the Programme the budding historians will be able to:

- Be familiar with the geographical background of ancient Indian history.
- List the sources and evidence for reconstructing the history of ancient India.
- Analyze the numismatic and epigraphical tools for the study of the history of ancient India.
- Discuss the prehistoric and proto-historic cultures.
- Describe the political history of ancient India.
- Analyze the socio-economic and religious milieu of ancient India.
- Discuss the important political and legal institutions of ancient India.
- Dwell upon the art and architecture of ancient India.
- Analyze India's cultural contacts with south, southeast Asia. □ Discuss the main civilizations of the ancient world.
- Undertake exploration and excavation work, on a rudimentary level.
